The OSU College of Forestry wishes to provide opportunities for our students to fully participate in a diverse community and an enriched academic environment by embracing a broad range of perspectives. To this end we offer the -

Forestry Open Pathways Scholarships!

Scholarships of up to $5000 each are available to incoming students who will:

- enliven the college community through their experience as the first individual in their immediate family to attend college.
- enhance the college community through their experiences as members of diverse communities.
- embrace academic success with assistance in overcoming extreme economic hardship which may prevent university attendance.
